

My scammer

The whole story

The worst sentence I ever read:

if I loose my life in this mission it was as a result of your heart break

I am Monika Dlugosch, which is my real name. I am an author from Germany, winner of some literature prizes for short stories. I went to university, made a diploma and have a certificate for psychotherapy and good work experience. In summer this year I decided to do steps for publishing my literature, short stories and novels with amazon and make my work known through social media. It was a long way to make this decision; I don't want to bore you with this process. In summer I created my website www.monika-dlugosch.de and started to be present on social media somehow, because some of the platforms are too confusing for me. I am still learning and haven't used it properly since now. Most of all I liked twitter, so there I tried to take steps for making my literature known. A part of my literature is erotic, so I decided to put a focus on the erotic stories. It is very important for me to explain, that I write these stories, because I am convinced, that erotic has nothing to do with might or making people feel less worth etc., but erotic is respect, dignity, passion, humor, honesty, sincerity, dedication, sensuality, sensitiveness, generosity and responsibility. There is too much confusion about sex and erotic in this world and our culture. This is the reason, why I write these stories and why they are important for me.

I write this text in English, because all the communication with and about my scammer was and is in English, it is not my mothertongue, but I hope, I can express myself correctly.

At the beginning of December there were suddenly followers on twitter of the US Army. I was astonished, because I write in German. My friend told me, that soldiers would like erotic stories and many of them know German. At the beginning of December I was also involved in a case of total injustice, of which I was a victim, trying to solve it for not having this in my life. But it weakened me for a while. In the same time there was a person, calling himself Sergeant Antonio Lester Steward, who started to chat with me on twitter. I was curious, where he might be and what kind of experience he might have. I never in my life had contact with a person from the US Army. I grew up in a place in Germany with British soldiers and we were not allowed to have contact (although we, as children, played together secretly). I went to a school, where teachers were very critical about everything from America and I never visited USA. I made friends all over the world, but USA was never present in my life as real persons. As I grew older I overcame the prejudices created in school and even worked for a short while with American lawyers, anyways the American culture was not part of my life. This is why I went so curious and this scammer, I call him Toni from now on, because in my conversation I called him Toni, pretended to be a Sergeant in the US Army coming from Brooklyn in New York. As I had this problem with injustice I did not really have my brain free for communicating, so he asked me about the problem. In my every-day-life I do not talk about those things, but he insisted, so I told him and his sentences were making me calm and peaceful. I think this was the beginning to trust him.

For my injustice-problem I found a solution and could end it. We started talking about him. He told me, he is in Libya in a secret mission and rescuing refugees. He sent photo 1 telling this was taken during his time in Afghanistan. He wrote to me every day, telling he came from fighting in his mission and sent the photos 2 – 5, telling he is in the desert, it is rough and harsh and that IS people had attacked the camp, and that refugees had told IS fighters where the camp was. He told me of his friends and colleagues, who died while fighting. He sent photo 6, which he told shows him and his good friend, who died that day. He told me, that he is fed up with the mission, very tired and wants to go home and end the mission. He wrote, he has a daughter, 12 years old, who lives with his ex-wife. His wife would not take care of the daughter and he is very worried. He said, he is divorced and asked me about my last relationships and family. In the same time he sent me a civil photo 7. He complained about the US Army in the way, that the officials and commanders were heartless, putting him on the mission list to leave the camp for fighting every day and in the night he would have to take care of the camp gate. He would sleep less than 4 hours a day, he had a bad headache, would be limping, caused by an accident during the fight and his arm was shot. They would not have enough medicine for the injured men and many times he wrote about soldiers, who were shot to death while he was in the armored tank.

In the same time he was asking me a lot of questions about my daughter. My daughter in the meantime kept saying Internet is not real.

So what did I do?

I do not have any Army experience. I do not know the system of any army, I have never in my life seen a dead body. I do not know anything about the life of Americans (besides media), especially not of US soldiers. I never judge about things I do not know.

What I know a little bit, as everybody can know, is the situation in Yemen and Libya. So this raise up in my inner eye. We all know about the slavery, the refugee camps, the people in total despair in Africa, especially in those two countries and we know, that we ourselves tend to ignore, that 40 Million people there are starving. We know, that the IS fighters try to create their system new in Libya and there was even an article about Mr. Trump saying that he will interfere in Libya. As Toni kept writing that he is in the middle of hell, I thought it is better, that I try to support his self-confidence and give emotional support as good as I can. Someone in a desperate situation cannot start to criticize any kind of system or officials, cannot criticize a mission or whatever. He can only do the best he can to survive and reach his aims. And his aim was to go home healthy. So I kept telling him, things that should make him go through his situation and taking care of himself and his physical, mental and emotional health. Like saying you are tough and strong, warmhearted, you are a valuable person, the world needs a man like you, things like that. I even wrote him a long letter, in which I expressed, how valuable he is. I thought, I can give this from my heart to whoever is in a situation of despair. I still do not regret I did it in this way.

He asked me to write a letter to a welfare commander of the US Army, so he would be able to leave Libya. I wrote this letter and sent it with e-mail. I received an answer to send information about Toni's rank, military number etc (see attachment 1 and 2). I answered this letter as well (see attachment 3). Toni started to talk about beginning a new life with me, about coming to Frankfurt before going to New York, about travelling all over the world and as he knew I had been to Mexico sent me photo 8, which he told showed him in Mexico. He wrote his parents were dead and that they had been his best friends, photo 9 showing him and his father. When he sent me Christmas greetings, photo 10, he told me, I would be the love of his life.

In the meantime I talked to friends about how soldiers can leave the army, what kind of help I could be and the story of this man. Nobody told me this is a scammer. It seems as if in Germany this is not as known as in USA. The word "scammer" is in my vocabulary since yesterday (less than 24 hours). I was given several advices; one was to go to the American embassy. I went there, but they did not want to talk to me. (I think they should at least have a hand-out about scammers pretending to be a soldier from the US Army). Toni kept saying, that he has to talk to the officials and asking me, if I had a mail from them. He kept writing, that he loved me and wanted to start a new life with me. I laugh now.

The truth, forgive me Americans, is, that I thought, that other cultures like Americans treat the word love in a different way than we do in Germany. This is, what I thought: Americans use the word love faster than we do, they use sweet words like honey, sweetie, my love, darling, my dear. They are faster in promising, that somebody is the love of their life. They believe more than we in Germany, as we are known to be colder than other cultures, in these romantic pink stories and in happy endings. Yes, you can laugh now. This is what I thought and found it cute. Even we at home started to call each other cutie and darling and dear and treating each other this way. I hope we will keep it.

So this is why I wrote back in the same words and sending kisses. Also I found the man on the photos extremely attractive. I like men with bald head, dark brown eyes, this way of smile and hair all over the body. I would of course meet a man like this, if he is kind and interested in me, but his sentences were very kind and his interest seemed to be there. I do not believe that anyone can start a total new life and telling me, he wanted to start this new life with me was creating distance inside of me, but I did not tell him. There is no space in this kind of communication for writing about such a subject and I was still thinking he might really be in a dangerous and desperate situation. This is not a situation to discuss about general things and I thought, that I do not know if I would ever meet this man so I did not discuss about a new life, which I thought is waste of time and energy as long as we have not even met. But in the same time I was for two days extremely worried, if this man would survive in this place. I had fears and kept imagining, how it would be for a soldier in this situation.

Then he told me, he had talked to some officials, that he may leave soon and yesterday I had another e-mail from this so-called welfare consultant of the US Army (see attachment 4). First I was very excited, but then I was sitting and reading quietly. Even before I had tried to do some research in the Internet, for example about the rank of this sergeant. I saw that the symbol on his clothes is not the one that should be there according to the information Toni had given to me, but I thought, that I just do not know enough.

In this last mail I was told I should send 250$ with Money gram. I researched Money gram and found two addresses close to my place, from where I could send money with Money gram, but I have been working close to these two places. I had seen them and my impression was, that these places seem criminal to me. After that I did some research about the address to where I should send the money. I thought, if this is an official Army place, I will find out in the Internet, but I found advertisement about a house that should be rented or sold, also far away from any big city, where I guessed would be Army places. Then I remembered that I had read something about gangs in Africa, who tried to press money from women, inventing sad stories and when I researched this I found the pages about scammers. I could find photo 1 in a different context. The man of my photo had his own website and finally I found him and made some efforts to get in touch with him.

In the same time I wrote to Toni, that I feel helpless and that I do not have this money, that he would have to send it to this address. He told me that he does not have access to his bank account and that he would give the money back to me. In the mail was written, that soon there would be a special fight and Toni would have to be in the frontline. Toni had told before that the soldiers in the frontline were the ones who were shot to death. So they made it very urgent, that I should send this money in the mail and in the communication on twitter Toni did the same. This was in the middle of the night, when Toni normally never was there to communicate. There were special times between 5 pm and 10 pm, but when I wrote him about this mail, which I had not seen before, because I was out of the house, he was online, insisting I should send the money, because otherwise his life would be in danger.

I switched between my research results and Toni. I read that US soldiers are allowed to skype and use facebook. I asked him to skype. He wrote, it is forbidden. I asked him to accept my friendship on facebook. He wrote, he has no access to facebook. There were several excuses in the same way I found them on the scammerpages and suddenly the real Sergeant Steward answered.

The real Sergeant Steward:

Sergeant Steward told me, he is alive, he is at home, secure and not deployed since a long time. He told me, that his account on twitter was hacked and he had already reported it to twitter. He asked me to report it, too. He told me, that since 8-9 years there are 2-3 times a month women writing to him and his wife in order to find out the truth. I could find some photos, which Toni sent to me, in the real account of Sergeant Steward.

The best of this communication was to know, that this man on the photo is alive, at home and safe. On top of all this he is happy. Even if you start to like a faked photo (and as I am one of those cold Germans I cannot say love) you start to take care of this person and the most important is, that this person is safe and happy.

Not to be in danger was in all the communication with this Toni always the most important subject to me and it was solved as soon as the real Sergeant answered.

I reported the account three times, explaining what went on, but twitter kept answering that there is no violation of rules.

Mr. Steward was asked to send a photo ID, but the account is still there, as if nothing happened.

I blocked the account @steward009 on twitter and put the mails in gmail in the spam and blocked them as well. But he can still write to me in gmail. I do not know, how to block this totally up to now.

He wrote to me, that I would be responsible for his death and that I just didn't want to help him. On this ear, which means blaming people without any kind of respect, I am totally deaf. But I am also a big fan of Mahatma Gandhi and Nelson Mandela, which means fighting with love. So I wrote a very kind letter, telling him in nice words, that I know, who he is and that I wish him a beautiful life, that I am sure, he has a wonderful daughter and a wonderful wife, that I think that he himself is beautiful, maybe not from inside, and that he can anyways get help from my letter, in which I was telling him, that he is a valuable man. I told him, that I communicate only with people with real identity and that I love honest people. (attachments 5 and 6)

Everybody could think, that the story ends here, but Toni sent me a passport (photo 11, attachment 6) insisting, that he is Sergeant Antonio Steward. My favorite is questioning myself (I write this a little bit self-ironic). For this reason it was very good, I could contact the real Mr. Steward, who confirmed that the passport is forged. He told me that the photo on the passport is from the wedding of his son.

After the text behind the forged passport I stopped answering. To forge a passport is just too much for me. I feel sick, if I think of the mud behind this account and the absence of human dignity. In the same time I feel sorry for Mr. Steward and his family to be bothered since 9 years. I want to say thank you to Mr. Steward for helping me to find out and sticking with the truth and for being friendly all the time.

Thank you to Mr. Steward for the permission to publish his photos concerning this subject.

Monika i have not been myself please i deserve an explanation of why you want to treat me like this we just talked last night and i came back only to find out that i cant text you again please i need to know what made you do that Monika i know you are a woman with a good heart and i just need to know what went wrong

Monika schreibt

I know, who you are. I wish you a good life with your beautiful daughter and you are beautiful as well (from outside and maybe as it seems not from inside), although you are not Steward, but Tony. My letter could help you as well, even if you are not the person, whom you pretend to be and even if you are not in Lybia. I guess, you have a beautiful woman as well and I wish you the best from my heart. Kiss you, bye bye
